GOOD, STRONG AND HONEST

The EAGLE said the morning after the Republican convention that the city ticket nominated was good, strong and honest, and that the more it was studied the better it would be liked. The prediction was sound. Men who at first thought that a stronger ticket might have been named when calmly looking over the record and fitness of each individual nominee finds it difficult to raise genuine objectious and cent of young Republicans named has but little weight. Being young they will be all the more anxious to meet the expectations and demands of the people. And they sufficient sprinkle of gray heads to apply the breaks if it ever should become necessary. We say again, the ticket will grow upon the party and the people simply because the imaginary in the light of calm reflection. The Democrats will rake their party all Democrats will rake their party all over and then fail to equal it. The truth is, the Democra's don't believe themselves that they can, therefore they will try to bolster up their work by naming or nominating a few important of the districts of the districts of the districts of school officers.
